

AISB 2012

CALL FOR CONVENTION PROPOSALS

DEADLINE: 1st July 2010

Notification of Acceptance:
15th July 2010

Suggested deadline for Call
for Symposia Proposals:
31st July 2011

Contact:
secretary10@aisb.org.uk

Recent Conventions

2011 York,
2010 De Montfort,
2009 Heriot-Watt,
2008 Aberdeen,
2007 Newcastle,
2006 Bristol,
2005 Hertfordshire,
2004 Leeds,
2003 Aberystwyth,
2002 Imperial.

The Society for the Study of Artificial Intelligence and Simulation of Behaviour (AISB) sponsors an annual convention consisting of a collocation of symposia and workshops. The convention aims to provide a unique opportunity to promote emerging work which spans the full range of research within Artificial Intelligence and Cognitive Science.

THE AISB CONVENTION

The AISB Convention is the major UK Artificial Intelligence and Cognitive Science Event. It aims to function as a venue for the presentation of recent and emerging work in the fields of Artificial Intelligence and Cognitive Science and as a productive environment for networking and the formation of collaborations.

The convention will have a convention organiser who has overall responsibility for the convention programme, local arrangements and financial management. Programme detail is mostly delegated to individual symposium organisers but the convention organiser is responsible for arranging plenary talks. The convention uniquely offers a supportive environment for the presentation of emerging work. In particular, it provides an excellent opportunity for students to present their research to an audience containing some of the most eminent researchers in the field.

A full description of the role of the convention organiser is available on request from the AISB secretary (secretary10@aisb.org.uk) and also from the AISB Web Site (<http://www.aisb.org.uk/convention/organisation.shtml>).

MAKING A PROPOSAL

Proposals should be made by EMAILING IN PLAIN TEXT to Louise Dennis at secretary10@aisb.org.uk, enclosing the following information. (Prior informal email enquiries from possible proposers are welcomed):

NAME & AFFILIATION of Convention Organiser - including both postal and email addresses and telephone numbers.

CASE FOR SUPPORT not more than 1000 words, arguing your case for hosting the Convention. You may put observations about your own background and suitability in the Additional Comments section below. This case for support should include suggestions of individuals you intend to approach as plenary speakers and symposium organisers.

CONVENTION LOCATION, TIME AND LENGTH Typically an AISB convention runs for 3-4 days in March/April. If you are proposing to host a convention of unusual length or at an unusual time then you should also include a justification of this change. The location should be in the UK.

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS no more than 500 words, on, for example, the relevance of your background to the convention, and of the benefits of your proposed location.

The winning proposal will be selected by the Committee of the AISB.

AISB AGM 2010

Thursday 1 April, 1pm, The Phoenix Square, Leicester.

Agenda

1. Welcome.
2. Apologies for absence.
3. Minutes of last AGM (to be approved).
4. Requests for Changes and Additions to the Agenda.
5. Chair's Report.
6. Membership Numbers.
7. Treasurer's Report.
8. AOB not mentioned in 4.